

FOCUS: 50 to 100
Education Town Hall Wrap-Up Session

October 23, 2007

Student Learning Outcomes—Educational Pattern
(Fourth Revision)

Students, as members of a community of learners, will be exposed to skills needed to be superior competitors in the global marketplace; and, to be informed and engaged citizens.

“A Sustainable Education”
...that Touches and Changes the World

- Local, regional, national and global connections; systems thinking; multi-cultural understanding; aesthetics; languages
- Sustainability
 - > Urban, economic, environmental, social, surrounding natural environment
- Multi-dimensional content; integrative thinking; multi-disciplinary education
- Research and creative scholarship opportunities for all students
- Commitment to diversity
 - > Social justice/social responsibility; strong personal and civic ethics
- Dynamics of change
 - > Comfort with and management of the dynamics change